A Milan Design Week 2011 começou. E como sempre, o Brasil está muito bem representado com as criações de Fernando e Humberto Campana. Os designers sempre inovam, especialmente na utilização de materiais inusitados. Esse ano eles lançam uma coleção de móveis e acessórios produzidos com couro de avestruz, em uma parceria da Edra com a Klein Karoo, empresa sul-africana especializada no material. A produção inclui bancos, mesas, painéis e colares. A partir de hoje as peças estarão expostas na Triennale Design Museum, meca da arquitetura e do design em Milão. Elas serão leiloadas e todo o dinheiro arrecadado será doado para uma instituição de caridade sul-africana.
