1 GO to La Biennale des Antiquaires; it's hard not to be excited about the Paris Biennale, a most amazing mix of fine art, objects and furniture from the antiquity till the late 20th century. You always discover the most beautiful things you didn't know existed. biennale-paris.com

2 BUY Sophie Dries: I am crazy about this young Parisian architect's gorgeous vases and candle holders, created in a smart mix of copper, brass and ceramic. This is the kind of statement piece every interior needs. sophie-dries.com

3 EAT at Anahi. Paris' trendy set has never liked flashy restaurants and Anahi is one of the best of the understated kind. Renovated by Humbert & Poyet, it retains its magic, which has drawn the fashion flock since the 1980s. anahi-paris.com

4 CHECK IN to the Hotel National des Arts & Métiers in Le Marais. It is designed by Raphael Navot, who gained fame creating the Paris nightclub Silencio in collaboration with film maker David Lynch. hotelnational.paris
