

Block, Annie. "A South American predatory fish now lives on land....," Interior Design Magazine, August 2017.

FRIEDMAN BENDA 515 W 26TH STREET NEW YORK NY 10001
FRIEDMANBENDA.COM TELEPHONE 212 239 8700 FAX 212 239 8760

A South American predatory fish now lives on land...

The pirarucu is one of several nature-related muses for the 25 pieces by Estudio Campana in "Fernando and Humberto Campana: Hybridism" at the Friedman Benda gallery in New York, starting September 7. The Sereia Pirarucu lounge chair, clad in real fish skin, has a "tail" cast in bronze. Sticks collected during Humberto's daily runs through the parks of São Paulo, Brazil, then cast in the same metal, became the legs of the Branches sofa. Meanwhile, the Noah side table and shelf, Ark references, are cast aluminum.

Block, Annie. "A South American predatory fish now lives on land..." Interior Design Magazine, August 2017.

FRIEDMAN BENDA 515 W 26TH STREET NEW YORK NY 10001
FRIEDMANBENDA.COM TELEPHONE 212 239 8700 FAX 212 239 8760