

Out There

A street-smart guide to New York news and newsmakers

Your ass is mine After a decade of being denied a visa, photographer-sculptor Wang Jin, one of China's most controversial artists, is coming to town for his first NYC exhibition, running Thu 22–Apr 22 at Barry Friedman Ltd. (32 E 67th St between Madison and Park Aves, 212-794-8950). Expect more works like To Marry a Mule (1995) at the gallery and also at the International Asian Art Fair, which starts Fri 23.
