POETIC FURNITURE COLLECTION

Watercolour Collection By Nendo

TEXT | CHLOE WONG

EDIT | RICHARD KELLEY, HENRY LAU

Japan's Nendo Design Studio's Watercolour Collection, which would be debut at Design Miami/Basel, is as minimal as its previous work, but themed around watercolours and the imitate the effects of watercolour painting on a paper surface.

The entire collection is composed by 18 pieces in total, including sets of tables and chairs, and when taking a glance at them, they are like white paper with blue bleeding effects being folded into handcrafted items, light and airy. Yet, they are all made of steel. The watercolour effects are all painted by hand, and the designs vary according to each piece of furniture.
