Wallpaper, the international design, fashion and lifestyle bible, has announced the winners of its 2012 Design Awards. Included among the prestigious honours, now in their eighth year, are London for best city, David Chipperfield Architects' Hepworth Wakefield gallery as best public building, Belgium's Raf Simons for best menswear collection and Tokyo-based Nendo as designer of the year. A full list of all the award winners will be published in the February issue of Wallpaper.
